

Creating Peace in a Violent World

"Herein you have His Holiness at his best, unabashedly being himself in the presence of the Tucson community and fans from all over the country, addressing head on the serious crisis we are living through with insight and humor. He opens up for us a vision of hope and pragmatic possibility, how to turn your own inner life into freedom and move from there through compassion and wisdom into being more part of the solution, less part of the problem. In this video, you get to meet His Holiness, and it can change your outlook on life way for the better. Enjoy!"

- Robt. Thurman
